Upgrade your skills

Upgrade your prior OHS knowledge to bring you up-to-date with the harmonised WHS laws (WHS Act 2011); formalise your skills performed on-the-job, or study Work Health and Safety to improve and advance your career opportunities. Every industry requires team members who know how to comply with current legislation across key areas including consultation and training in the workplace; management of hazards and risks; WHS management systems; incident and emergency management and the management of contractors. By developing technical knowledge and skill in WHS, graduates are ready for the...
